SAVE RHINOS, TO SAVE PEOPLE, TO SAVE TOMORROW

MESSAGE FROM CFW FOUNDER & CEO, PETRONEL NIEUWOUDT

Christmas is about love and peace and family. The love we give and the love we receive. I was so privileged now to also witness it between two magnificent rhinos, both orphans, both lost their moms, their homes, and their comfort. Forrest and Annie. I am so glad that we at Care for Wild could give them a home and a family again. Forrest the big bull that was so vulnerable and scared. And Annie, so tiny and sweet. It was so easy to give them this love and this home.

Thank you to all who contributed to making this happen. All of the rhinos are represented on the Christmas Tree of Life. The decorations are all of us and all of you. The community, the farm, the sponsors, the donors, and the friends. We are all decorations on this lovely colourful Rhino Christmas Tree of Life.

May you all have a blessed Christmas and keep on praying for us and these beautiful rhinos. We love you all and we are blessed to know you.

4th Rhino Calf Born: Twinkle Gives Birth

At 22:38 on Wednesday 2nd November, rehabilitated and released rhino orphan Twinkle, gave birth to a tiny female calf. The white rhino calf is the 4th calf to be born at Care for Wild this year with both her parents being rehabilitated orphans of poaching.

Twinkle arrived in 2016 after poachers killed her mother. Twinkle herself also suffered machete injuries at the hands of the poachers. She underwent a long and extensive rehabilitation before entering the rewilding and release programme in 2018.

At 7 years old, Twinkle became a mother for the first time when she gave birth in the Intensive Protection Zone under the monitoring of her long-time protectors. The calf was tiny and took a while to stand, but eventually began to suckle, drinking the vitally important colostrum that will support her immunity and development.

Twinkle was very tired and weak after the birth. She is continuing to be supported with supplementary food to aid her through these first few months. We are so incredibly proud of Twinkle, humbled by her strength, and so grateful for this beautiful new life.

This photo was taken on the morning after the birth when the night shift Rhino Monitors handed over to the Day Shift. It will forever hold a place in our hearts.

This is raw pride. Like new fathers, our Rhino Monitors congratulated each other on the safe delivery of a new calf born at Care for Wild.

They have watched over Twinkle since she arrived as a small orphan and continued to protect her when she was released into the Intensive Protection Zone.

Honour, discipline, integrity. The core values of our anti-poaching team. Empowered and proud members of the community safeguarding and conserving a heritage for future generations.

5th Rhino Calf Born: Timbi Gives Birth

On the morning of 4th September 2012, pilot Ben Osmers and Ertjies Rohm were busy with a routine horn trimming operation in Manyeleti. A call from the Timbavati brought devastating news and announced the poaching of a rhino cow. Ben, Ertjies and a ranger from the Timbavati responded to the call and discovered a young calf next to the body of her deceased mother.

The calf was darted and loaded into the helicopter before being flown back to the ground support team in Manyeleti. It was here that this little orphan was transferred into a University of Pretoria vehicle and driven by veterinarian Dr Ferreira du Plessis, towards Care for Wild. The rain poured and driving conditions were terrible. Dr Ferreira arranged to meet Petronel at a Sasol fuel station where they transferred the calf into Care for Wild's purpose-built travelling crate before continuing on towards the sanctuary.

Timbi went on to form a close friendship with fellow orphan Olive as well as Lunar, Storm, Forrest and Hawk. After extensive rehabilitation, they began their rewilding program together in 2016 and were the first group of rhinos to be released into the intensive protection zone. Timbi has blossomed into a hugely impressive rhino cow, weighing close to 2 tonnes.

When Timbi was 8 years old, a collaborative effort was made between Rhino Repro and Care For Wild to help start Timbi's reproductive cycles as she was not showing any signs of oestrus. Rhino Repro did an Ovum Pick Up procedure on Timbi and Olive to kick-start their reproductive cycles. This catalysed the other females' cycles and some months later, Winter was covered by Storm naturally for the first time in the orphan group. It is a mammoth breakthrough for Timbi giving a calf at the age of 10 years and 5 months. It is extremely positive for the future of released orphans forming viable breeding populations.

On 8th December 2022 Timbi became the 5th released orphan to give birth naturally to her own calf; a gorgeous little bull. As the baby began to emerge, Petronel saw that he was in a breech position. His back legs were visible but Timbi was struggling and running out of energy. Breech deliveries can be very dangerous as the umbilical cord can be flattened or twisted and the baby can lose blood flow to the hind legs.

But Timbi has always had unfathomable strength and we were left in awe at her determination to bring her son into the world. She successfully delivered her calf minutes later without the need for intervention. We are so proud of her.

DAISY'S 1st BIRTHDAY!

On the 9th of December 2021, a tiny, tiny rhino calf arrived at the Care for Wild helipad. Her umbilical cord was still attached and her feet were still wet from the womb. The following 6 months would test us like never before. Daisy presented completely new challenges for the team. She had not received any colostrum from her mother and therefore her immune system was extremely compromised. She became sick very quickly and remained on 24/7 care for the first few months of her life. Each and every day was a precious miracle to have her with us. With the comfort and support of her zebra friend Modjadji, Daisy began to take very small steps in the right direction and this unlikely duo became known all over the world.

This month marks Daisy's first Birthday. A day we thought might never come. But one year on from the tiny, wrinkly miniature rhino that arrived, Daisy is finally grazing and growing into her skin! She has even developed beautiful little fat rolls on her bottom!

We would like to take this opportunity to thank every person involved in Daisy's journey from the caregivers and vets, the donors supporting her milk and medical costs, and the volunteers sending blankets and beautiful messages of support. Daisy's tenacity and resilience are truly humbling and inspirational.

AI Enabled Tracking Collars for Storm and Baloo with Rhino Custodians

White rhino bulls Storm and Baloo have been very busy successfully establishing their own territories. This is fantastic news for the long-term vision of securing viable rhino breeding populations. Storm has already fathered five calves this year!

These 2-tonne bulls walk many kilometres every day as they patrol and mark their territories, and with an increase in dominant behaviour, additional technological support serves to enhance their protection and security. Petronel and the Care for Wild team were joined by Wildlifevets.com to fit AI-enabled tracking collars supplied by Rhino Custodians. Rouxcel technology collars give location information and detect and transmit abnormal rhino behaviour in real-time. The system consists of AI-enabled rhino collars and a private LoRa Network with smart algorithms continuously monitoring the rhino's behaviour and alerting for abnormal activity.
''Range expansion through the successful implementation of technology'' Dr SP le Roux.

Care for Wild presents at EarthRanger User Conference in Kenya and visits Ol Pejeta

In early November, Petronel and the Care for Wild team attended the annual EarthRanger User conference in Kenya that saw 320 people from 35 countries and 5 continents come together for wildlife conservation. EarthRanger is a software solution that aids protected area managers, ecologists, and wildlife biologists in making more informed operational decisions. Care for Wild has been integrating the EarthRanger system into our protected area management strategy and presented our use of the system at the conference.

EarthRanger has played an important role in many areas of our operations but specifically in the data collection and monitoring of the calves born to rehabilitated orphans. Care or Wild was extremely humbled to be part of the conference and grateful for the opportunity to meet with so many inspirational people and organisations working to protect and conserve biodiversity around the world.

First Inter-community Soccer & Netball Match

At the beginning of December, Care for Wild welcomed 80 local community children to the sanctuary for a monumental netball and soccer match. This is the first time that children from two neighbouring communities have formed their own soccer and netball teams to play together. Care for Wild's community outreach projects work extremely closely with the local children and now we are extending our programmes even further.

It was very interesting to see how the rhinos behaved during this match. They were very interested in the sight and came over to investigate from a short distance away. The majority of these children have never seen a rhino before and for the first time, they could observe these gentle giants. It is so important for children to connect to nature, to respect nature, and to understand the need to protect their heritage. These children will now join our Junior Ranger programme for regular educational visits to the sanctuary.

Community Christmas

In the lead-up to Christmas, Care for Wild visited two local communities and delivered food packages to over 80 households. With the help of our staff and some of the Junior Rangers, we ensured that the most vulnerable families, as well as those supporting children and the elderly, received support over the festive period.

The Junior Rangers also visited Care for Wild for a festive game of soccer as well as a ride in our very own Christmas sleigh led by four very cheeky elves on horseback!

LEO RAHBAN JOINS CARE FOR WILD UK

We are delighted to share with you that Leo Rahban is joining Care for Wild Uk as Community & Fundraising Manager.

Leo (short for Eleonore) has always loved animals and nature, growing up on a free-range family farm in the countryside just outside of Paris, France. She spent time travelling between England, the West Indies, Australia and Spain before working as a radio host and organising events in France.

After moving to the UK in 2019, she started working in the charity sector, managing multiple fundraising campaigns and events in mental health and climate action. Leo's passion for conservation and animals means she will put her knowledge and professional experience into developing an engaged and sustainable fundraising community for Care For Wild in the UK.

Her role enables CfW UK to put more resources behind the efforts to raise funds in the UK, whilst growing the community of UK supporters involved and participating in our activities.

Welcome Leo!

ERIC CALDWELL VISITS CARE FOR WILD!

In November, Communications Director Eric Caldwell got to make his first visit to Care for Wild. He came away with so many great memories and enduring friendships.

"I am so humbled to be part of such a dedicated and hardworking team. I was admittedly a bit nervous as it was my first time meeting everyone, but I instantly felt accepted and a part of the team. It was important to come and volunteer to experience this and work alongside all the people I've gotten to know so well."

But it's not just the people that made Eric's experience so memorable, as seeing the impact of the mission and goals of Care for Wild in action was so exciting.

"Whether it was seeing a prescribed burn to protect our biodiversity and prevent overgrowth and potential fires. Being at Care for Wild when Twinkle gave birth to Coco to all the work we do with our local communities.To get to be a part of a cause that organically accomplishes conservation for its environment, its people, and its animals, this is what makes this so special"

THANK YOU TO ALL DONORS AND SPONSORS FOR AN AMAZING YEAR!

GIVING TUESDAY

GIVING TUESDAY GOAL REACHED!

A massive thank you to every person who donated and shared our posts for Giving Tuesday. Every single donation made a huge difference and we were blown away by the dedication and support we received.

We completely smashed through our goal and finished the appeal with donations valuing over R800,000!

Thank you so much!

THANK YOU ER24

ER24 have been loyal supporters of our work for many many years. Their donations of medical supplies has helped and supported numerous rhinos.

It is not uncommon to receive an orphaned calf with severe injuries inflicted by the poachers themselves or from opportunistic hyenas. In these cases, a lot of medical attention is required and we have relied heavily on the donations from ER24.

Just before Christmas, ER24 delivered another selection of greatly needed items. Our hospital is now fully restocked and ready to support an animal in need.

THANK YOU TASTE BUDS

Care for Wild would like to say a very big thank you to restaurant Taste Buds in Howick who raised R2000 for us through their donation box.

We are so grateful for this amazing local support.

ROYAL RHINO CREAMS

Another big thank you goes to Royal Rhino Creams for their very generous donation towards rhino conservation.

Thank you so much for the support.

CAPE ISLAND SUPPORTS CFW

Cape Island has officially joined 'shop with our partners'.

You can shop their black gold collection of candles and room sprays now and give back to our conservation project.
