SAVE RHINOS, TO SAVE PEOPLE, TO SAVE TOMORROW

MESSAGE FROM CFW FOUNDER & CEO, PETRONEL NIEUWOUDT

Winter is knocking on the door and it's time for us to make sure we are ready for the colder months. The beautiful, colourful blankets are like always, absolutely stunning and very welcome. Not only for the animals but also for the people!

From my heart to your heart, thank you to each and every perseon who knitted and worked to make sure this could happen. I can feel and see the love and the hugs.

RHINO NEWS

NEW ORPHAN RESCUED

It was late afternoon on Tuesday the 5th April 2022 when Care for Wild received a call from the Mala Mala area. A young rhino calf had been spotted wandering alone. She was thought to be around 2 years old. As the sun was already setting, rangers in the area were tasked with trying to follow the calf on foot overnight, but the bush was thick and dense, and she slipped away.

At first light the search resumed. Veterinarian Dr Ben Muller, and helicopter pilot Jana Meyer from Hope for Wildlife, took to the skies to support the search from above. The Care for Wild team began to make the long journey to the reserve and assisted with the search on arrival. Sadly, the calf could not be located and the search was called off as darkness began to fall.

But hope emerged again on Friday when rangers in the Kruger National Park spotted the calf . The SANParks team responded immediately. She was too large to fly to Care for Wild and so she was slung under the helicopter to the Skukuza bomas. The Care for Wild team collected her on the 11th April after giving her some time to recover from the first immobilisation.

Older calves can be extremely challenging and take longer to adapt as they have been with their Moms in the wild for longer. The introduction of other rhinos facilitates this adaptation process and reduces the need for human contact.

On arrival at Care for Wild our newest calf was immediately introduced to Dianna, Benji and Willow. Dianna is now one of the older orphans but has a phenomenal maternal instinct. Dianna immediately put the new calf at ease and offered her the guidance and support that she needed. Our newest orphan was named ‘Solana’ which means ‘sunlight’. She is a sweet natured girl, shy and affectionate. She seems to enjoy the company of Benji and is settling well in her new crash.

OLDER ORPHAN CARE FACILITY

The admission, housing, ongoing care and rehabilitation of calves over 12 months old is very different to that of younger orphans. Towards the end of 2021, we began designing and building a purpose built facility to support these older calves.

The facility is situated centrally within the boma complex and is easily accessible for the transportation vehicle. It is a similar facility to the Intensive Care Unit but designed on a bigger scale to accommodate the needs of an older calf. The facility has access doors on both sides and opens to either the boma or day camp and facilitates easy access to grazing, exercise, and introductions to other orphans.

The nightpen itself is well insulated for the winter and cool in the summer which is particularly important for supporting temperature regulation in compromised, traumatised and adapting calves. The nightpen has been designed to support the safe administration of medical care and treatment. A secured poled area within the nightpen is used for observation and monitoring but is also perfect as a nightpen for smaller rhinos.

The facility has a similar sized, second night-pen next door to support additional rhinos or to house rhinos acting in a supportive role to the new / struggling calf. This facility is also equipped with live streaming cameras for round the clock monitoring.

IN THE MEMORY OF SHARON DOUGHERTY, PARCA AND THE DOUGHERTY FAMILY SUPPORTED THE DEVELOPMENT OF THIS NEW FACILITY. SHARON IS PICTURED BELOW, THE SECOND FROM THE RIGHT, STANDING NEXT TO HER HUSBAND VINCE.

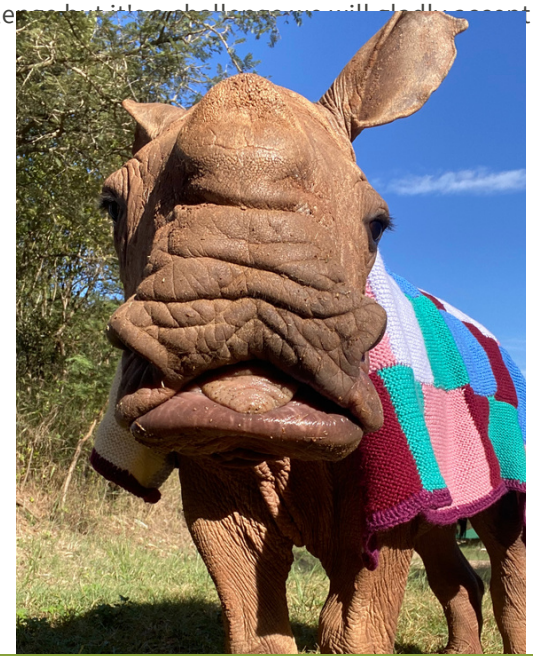

DAISY UPDATE

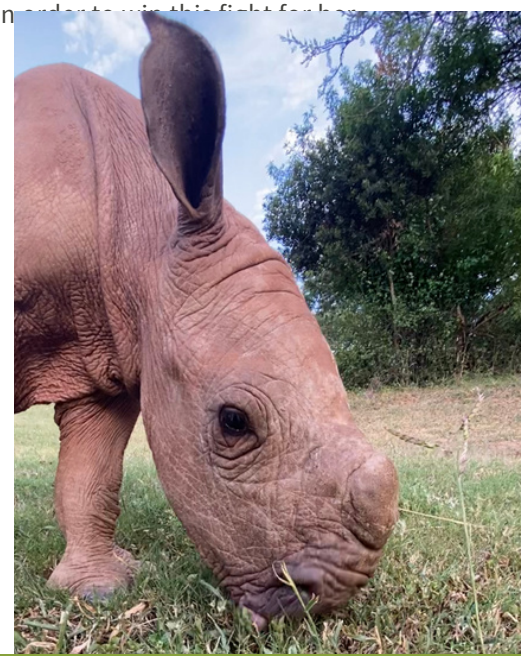

Daisy is now close to 5 months old and every day with her presents a new challenge. She is by far one of our most complex rehabilitation cases. Rescued at just a few hours old, Daisy never even stood up. On arrival, her umbilical cord was still attached and her feet were wet from the womb. As a high dependency, neonatal patient who received no colostrum from her mother, Daisy required round the clock care for the first few months of her life. To date, she is still recieving feeds throughout the night and drinks 9 times in 24 hours. Thats roughly every 2-2.5 hours! Daisy is one of many rhino orphans requiring care, it really takes a lot of dedication.

Veterinarian Dr Albertus Coetzee recently visited Daisy and with x-rays and an oral scope, confirmed that she was teething. Like most babies, teething is a painful and miserable time. Caregivers supported Daisy through this by making sure she had things to chew on and under veterinary guidance, even used teething gel to help soothe her sensitive gums.

Due to her compromised state on arrival and struggles with teething, Daisy has had difficulty transitioning to solids. Rhino calves normally begin to nibble on solids from the age of about 2 months old. For comparison, both Blizzy and Pebble are both grazing already! But Daisy's development is a little behind that of her parent raised counterparts and caregivers have had to work closely with nutritionists to ensure that Daisy is getting everything she needs for this stage of her growth and development. The good news is that she is making progress! Daisy is steadily gaining weight and starting to nibble!

AI COLLAR UPDATE

The range expansion of protected areas is essential for the longterm sustainability of viable black and white rhino breeding populations. We are combining 'boots on the ground' with ground breaking technology to enhance situational awareness and security.

Last month, several released rhinos were fitted with AI enabled tracking collars. The collars give location information and learn to detect and transmit abnormal rhino behaviour in real-time. This data is supported and enhanced by a layer of cameras feeding directly to the operations centre.

The heat map on the right was created using data captured by the collars and gives realtime location information as well as a visual display of historical location information. With this knowledge, our anti-poaching teams can strategically deploy resources for enhanced protection.

MOUNTED UNIT HOOF CHECK

Care for Wild's Mounted Unit are an extraordinary team made up of highly skilled and dedicated individuals as well as strong and magnificent horses. Able to cover vast areas at high speeds, otherwise impassible by vehicles, the Mounted Unit is an incredible asset.

Care for Wild has a responsibility and duty of care to the horses of the Mounted Unit to ensure they receive the very best care possible. Ensuring the ongoing health and wellbeing of all of the horses is of paramount importance. Farrier, Anthony Taylor regularly visits the horses to check their hoof health and for shoeing.

When Modjadj the zebra was smaller, her hooves were growing very quickly and she was not wearing them down fast enough naturally. Anthony kept a close eye on her hooves and made sure to file them when necessary in order to prevent any complications later on. Now that she is running around on harder surfaces, she is naturally wearing them down and no longer needs her personal manicurist.

COMMUNITY NEWS

COMMUNITY CHILDREN VISIT

Care for Wild envisions a world where biodiversity is protected and conserved by community networks. We are creating sustainable relationships and connections between people and nature. We work very closely with the children of our local community.

This month the Junior Rangers and Soccer Teams visited Care for Wild to learn about the importance of protecting and conserving the water in thereareas that they live. This was followed by a practical exercise where the children helped clear the rubbish from the river. The day ended in traditional fashion, with a game of soccer and hearty meal before returning home.

Education is the primary key to successful conservation. We need to teach our children to protect their heritage and the pivotal role that they can play in securing a future for all. Through education and uplifting communities, our hearts and hands are open to a more sustainable future for all and we can ensure that the rhino orphans and children of South Africa have a future.

SUSTAINABILITY UPDATES

CARE FOR WILD VEGETABLE GARDEN BLOOMING

The Care for Wild veggie garden is looking beautiful and abundant again following a substantial planting session a few months ago. With recent rains and daily care from the community staff, the fruits (or rather vegetables) of their labour are beginning to blossom and the first crates of veggies are being harvested. We are extremely excited for the cabbages, onions, peppers, chillis, sweet potato, butternuts, beetroot, beans, gem squash and herbs.

The vegetable garden is an important project for Care for Wild and has significant value to the sanctuary and the surrounding community. The garden provides skill development and employment opportunities and is the main supplier of fresh produce to the Care for Wild kitchens. The garden is fertilised with our very own compost made from rhino dung, of which we have in abundance!

ABOUT CARE FOR WILD

The Care for Wild Rhino Sanctuary is located in the greater Barberton Nature Reserve which incorporates Mountainlands Game Reserve, situated in the beautiful heartland of Mpumalanga, South Africa. The Sanctuary was founded by Petronel Nieuwoudt, with the goal of providing care and rehabilitation to a wide range of animals. Due to the drastic increase in the numbers of rhino poaching incidents within South Africa, and an ensuing large number of orphaned rhinos, the need for a specialised sanctuary which would rehabilitate and eventually release back into the wild became necessary. Care for Wild Rhino Sanctuary works directly with local communities in creating sustainable solutions that provide training, educational opportunities and ultimately jobs. This leads to members of the community developing livelihoods and securing promising futures for their communities through conservation. The long-term sustainability of the CFWRS is ultimately through the creation of jobs and enterprises within the Sanctuary and surrounding communities, ensuring that the communities see tangible benefit in conserving the Sanctuary and Rhinos.

US UPDATES

LIVE ON GOOD MORNING AMERICA

ABC News' Chief National Correspondent, Matt Gutman visitied Care for Wild and boradcast LIVE on Good Morning America. We were absolutely amazed at the astounding level of complex planning, logistical manoeuvring and professionalism of this team when capturing our story. During Matt's visit we were able to have an in-depth discussion about the long term effects of poaching and show him the extensive efforts going into saving and conserving a key stone species. Matt and Petronel broadcast LIVE from the veldt with Wyntir and Blizzy highlighting the hope that this little calf has brought to rhino conservation.

If you missed the LIVE broadcast, you can watch again by clicking the links below.
